

Director, School of Education

The Director is the chief academic and administrative officer for the School of Education and is responsible for the following:

Working with faculty, staff, students, and community partners to promote excellence in teaching, research, and service with a focus on Alaska's unique needs and opportunities. Managing the school's budgets and fiscal planning and responsible for external fundraising. Leading statewide curriculum development, implementation, evaluation and enhancement. Serving as an innovative and dynamic advocate for the school and its programs among diverse groups of education, business, government, and community leaders. Demonstrating effective interaction with the greater community: local and rural school districts, state and national organizations. Ensuring the effective operation of the School of Education in support of the mission and goals of both the College of Arts and Sciences and UAA and functions as an innovative, dynamic advocate for the school in initiating and facilitating education reform. Day-to-day operation of the school and for coordination with other campuses and Promotion of research initiatives of the school including new research programs and associated equipment and facilities.

Required Experience: Earned doctorate appropriate to the School of Education. Experience in serving highly diverse populations of students in P-12 settings. Administrative leadership in program planning and collegial leadership of professionals.

Preferred Experiences: Serving Indigenous populations of students. Budget management. Accreditation in higher education. Distance education and regional or statewide delivery of programs. Writing or administering grants or other external funding. Administration or teaching in small, rural P-12 schools.

Typical Education or Training: Earned doctorate appropriate to the School of Education and credentials suitable for a senior faculty appointment in the School of Education, with a successful record of accomplishment in leadership, teaching, research, and service.

Review Date: September 15, 2018

Online App. Form: <http://careers.alaska.edu/cw/en-us/job/509451/director-school-of-education>